

EDUCATE LONDON

A classified

www.educatelondon.co.uk

Eateries that won't swallow your budget

We give you a round-up of the cheapest eating-out deals in town, courtesy of feastguide.com

Indian

West Hampstead-based Elephant Walk is technically Sri Lankan rather than Indian and serves delicious, cheap curries. As if that weren't enough, they also offer NUS card holders a ten per cent discount on the food bill.
Tel: 020 7328 3308.

Italian

For £6 at lunchtime you get a drink and a pizza or dish from the classic Italian specials at Cleveland Kitchen. Make sure you book.
Tel: 020 7347 5966.

Japanese

Tokyo Diner is a traditional Japanese diner so no need to tip and lunch comes in under a tenner for sushi and saké.
Tel: 020 7287 8777.

French

Vilandry Charcuterie bar will serve you some lovely cuts of meat, freshly baked bread and a glass of wine for £10.
Tel: 020 7637 3137.

Belgian

Belgio Centraal in Covent Garden and Belgio Noord in Chalk Farm offer a 20 per cent discount for students with an NUS Extra card. The Express Lunch menu gets you a dish and a drink for £5.95.
Tel: 020 7813 2233.

Chinese

Aisan bar/restaurant is next to Wembley Stadium. It offers a 15 per cent discount to students and two-for-one on drinks in the mezzanine bar between 6pm and 7pm.
Tel: 020 8903 3888.

Fast Food

Leon (pictured) is healthy and tasty fast food. Lunch is about £6 and dinner is around a tenner.
www.leonrestaurants.co.uk

WHERE I MUNCH

Adele, 43, studying quantum mechanics

I'm a vegan so Micked's in Lexington Street (W1) is a real winner for me. They have lots of choice and are very affordable. Big queues though, so be warned.

Harriet, 26, psychology

There's great veggie food at Blah Blah Blah (Goldhawk Road W6) and it's reasonably priced too. I also love Little Bay in Maida Vale (mussels and chips £1.95 – come on!).

Sam, 27, commercial music and Japanese

I love good food with big portions so I'll go somewhere like Taro in Soho or Misato in Leicester Square. Both are brilliant.